

Donnington Wood Infant School & Nursery

Newsletter

Friday 22nd January 2021

It has been really good this week to see lots of children who are at home when the Hansel and Gretel home learning packs were dropped off. We hope you are enjoying the new story and activities. We are hoping to start posting some short videos on Tapestry and the website to support parents with learning at home. At the moment we are trialling this and will let you know once it is up and running for everyone.

We really enjoy seeing your learning on Tapestry. Please keep hold of all your home learning work and bring it back to school when we are fully open again. Please get in touch through Tapestry, email or phone call to the office if you have any questions or queries. We will be continuing our phone calls to families at home next week. These are challenging times for everyone and we want to make sure our school community has as much support as possible.

The children who are attending school and nursery have been getting on with their learning this week. We are really proud of how they are managing the routines and changes we have made to keep everyone as safe as possible.

Free School Meals

Vouchers for the first 3 weeks of term are being delivered today. We will do our best to get them out to everyone. Breakfast packs will be delivered next week to families receiving Free School Meal vouchers.

If you did not receive vouchers last Summer during the lockdown but think you may be entitled now then please contact the school office.

Win a £20 ALDI voucher!

Next week we will be emailing out a link to a quick parent questionnaire about home learning. We would love to hear your feedback and look at any ways we could improve what we are offering.

One person who completes the questionnaire will be chosen at random to receive a £20 ALDI voucher.

Check out the Home Learning page on the school website for lots of links to online learning activities and games

We must keep on protecting each other.
